

In order to avoid misunderstanding as regards the placing of the asterisks, it should be pointed out that Briquet very often prefaces groups of marks with introductory commentaries in which he quotes the serial numbers of the marks discussed. In such cases asterisks have also been placed in the margin opposite the line in which the serial number is first mentioned.

The Addenda and Corrigenda are documented with details of the sources from which they proceed. These may take the form of the initials of the scholar who has supplied the information, or may be references to published books or articles. In the latter case bibliographical details are given if the source is not included in the Bibliography on pp. *37-53; if the source is so included, then the author's name is followed by the serial number of the publication in the Bibliography in the form e.g. B320.

All abbreviations are listed in the List of Abbreviations on pp. *11-12.

- p. 3a Gasparinetti (B52, p. 45) gives information about the inscription on the Bologna tablet and on his discovery of the Statutes relating to it, dated 1389.
- p. 3b The tablet must either itself be much earlier (about 1300) than 1398, the date suggested by Br. or else represent an exact copy of an earlier one. This hypothesis is based in part on the form of the letter D in the tablet which agrees with that found in wms dating from the end of the 13th c., e.g. Br. Nos. 8164-5 [Piccard (B20), pp. 56-7]. See also Gasparinetti (B250).
- p. 4a The word reçute means 'cut in half', i.e. half a royal sheet (hence mezzo reale) [Gasparinetti (B53), pp. 40-3]. The term may originally have been used of parchment, for skins were often sold entire, whereas the norm for paper was the small sheet (forma minor) [AHS].
- p. 8b For Baylay read Bayley.
- p. 12a For Ravensburg paper see Piccard (B213), pp. 88-102, and Sporhan-Krempel (B212).

- p. 21b 44. An Épinal mark. Its twin has a slanted flag and a thin tail. This mark in late states is turned slightly counter-clockwise so that its flag also slants up. Identical mark in blockbooks: Biblia pauperum I, Canticum canticorum II, Ars moriendi II, Apocalypse V. Common in Cologne quartos printed by Zel and others [AHS]. See Introduction p. *29.
- p. 22a 56. A date '1648-50' or somewhat earlier is suggested for this mark on the basis of the countermark [VM].
